

How Does the Connecticut Paint Stewardship Program Affect Paint Retailers?

UPDATED — OCTOBER 2016

Connecticut's paint stewardship law requires paint manufacturers to establish a Paint Stewardship Program in Connecticut. Funding for the program comes from a fee applied to the price of architectural paint sold in Connecticut. The program started in July 2013.

Paint Stewardship Program in Connecticut

PaintCare Inc. is a nonprofit organization established by the American Coatings Association to implement state-mandated paint stewardship programs on behalf of paint manufacturers in states that adopt paint stewardship laws. The Connecticut program is required by state law, but it is designed and operated by the paint manufacturing industry through PaintCare.

Convenient Paint Recycling

PaintCare's primary effort is to set up paint drop-off sites in PaintCare states to make it more convenient for households and businesses to recycle paint. In addition to retailers, paint drop-off sites may include municipal household hazardous waste facilities and drop-off events, solid waste transfer stations, and landfills. There are currently more than 1,700 paint drop-off sites in eight states (California, Colorado, Connecticut, Maine, Minnesota, Oregon, Rhode Island, and Vermont) and the District of Columbia.

Participation as a Drop-Off Site Is Voluntary

Paint retailers that would like to be drop-off sites can participate if they have space for paint storage bins and can provide minimal staff time to accept paint from the public. By doing so, retailers can increase foot traffic and sales, and provide a new service for their community. They make it convenient for their customers to recycle leftover paint and help provide relief to local government programs that currently manage leftover paint. PaintCare provides storage bins, supplies, and site training. PaintCare also pays for paint transportation and recycling and promotes the sites to the local community. Stores that would like to become a drop-off site can fill out the Interest Form available in the Retailers section of www.paintcare.org/ct.

REQUIREMENTS OF RETAILERS

1. Check Registered Manufacturers and Brands

Retailers may not sell architectural paints in Connecticut that are not registered. Paint manufacturers must register their company with PaintCare, and they must register all architectural paint brands they sell in the state. PaintCare and the Connecticut Department of Energy and the Environment publish lists of registered manufacturers and brands on their websites so that retailers can confirm that the products they sell are registered. Please visit www.paintcare.org/lists to see registration lists.

2. Pass on the Stewardship Fee

State law requires that a stewardship fee (PaintCare Fee) must be applied by manufacturers to the wholesale price of all architectural paint sold in Connecticut. This fee pays for all aspects of running the program. It is paid by manufacturers to PaintCare and then passed to their dealers. Retailers should see the PaintCare Fee on invoices from suppliers after the program starts. The law also requires that retailers and distributors apply the fee to the purchase price of architectural paint they sell. The fee paid by the customer to the retailer offsets the fee charged by the manufacturer or distributor to the retailer. All manufacturers, distributors, and retailers selling architectural paint in the state must pay and pass down the fee, ensuring a level playing field for all parties.

COMMON QUESTIONS ABOUT FEES

How much are the fees?

Fees are by container size, as follows:

$ 0.00 – Half pint or smaller

$ 0.35 – Larger than half pint to smaller than 1 gallon

$ 0.75 – 1 Gallon

$ 1.60 – Larger than 1 gallon to up 5 gallons

How are the fees calculated?

Fees are set to cover the cost of a fully operating program. PaintCare estimates the annual sales of architectural paint in each state, and divides the estimated annual expenses of the program by the estimated number of containers to be sold, adjusts for container size, and determines a fee per size that will provide the budget needed to fund the program.

PaintCare is a nonprofit organization and operates programs on a state-by-state basis, so the fees may increase or decrease and be different from state to state.

Is the fee a deposit to be returned to customers?

No, the fee is not a deposit. Fees are used entirely to cover the expenses of running the program and not given back as a deposit for the return of paint or empty paint cans — a common misunderstanding.

Must we show the fee on receipts?

No, but most stores do show the fee in order to explain the price increase. PaintCare encourages retailers to show the fee and list it as PaintCare Fee to aid in customer education and provide consistency across the program.

Do we return the fee if a product is returned?

Yes, the fee should be returned, because it is part of the purchase price.

Is sales tax applied to the fee itself?

Yes, the fee is part of the purchase price; therefore, sales tax is collected on the fee.

How will the public know about the fee?

PaintCare provides printed materials for retailers to distribute to the public to help explain the purpose of the fee, how the program works, and how to find a paint drop-off location. Before the program started, PaintCare provided public information materials to all paint retailers. Additional materials can be ordered as needed for no charge. In addition to retailer information, PaintCare works with contractor associations to get information to trade painters, and conducts general outreach including newspaper, radio, television, and on-line advertising.
