

Become a Retail Drop-Off Site for Paint

UPDATED — JUNE 2019

A Vermont law affecting paint retailers took effect in May 2014.

The law requires paint retailers to add a stewardship assessment fee to architectural paint products and to make sure they are not selling unregistered brands of architectural paint. The law also requires paint retailers to provide customers with information about the program and how paint is managed. PaintCare will develop the materials, ensure they meet the state's requirements, and provide them free of charge to all paint retailers.

Retailers may also volunteer to be paint drop-off sites. This fact sheet explains how to partner with PaintCare as a retail drop-off site.

Paint Stewardship Program in Vermont

PaintCare Inc. is a nonprofit organization established by the American Coatings Association to implement this program on behalf of paint manufacturers in PaintCare States (those that adopt paint stewardship laws). PaintCare currently operates in California, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Maine, Minnesota, Oregon, Rhode Island and Vermont. PaintCare is currently developing a program for Washington, expected to launch in 2020.

Convenient Paint Recycling

PaintCare's major effort is to establish paint drop-off sites throughout each PaintCare State — at paint retailers and other locations — in order to provide convenient recycling opportunities for the public. Other locations include waste transfer stations and municipal household hazardous waste facilities and events. PaintCare has 1,700 drop off sites in eight states and the District of Columbia; more than 70 of these are in Vermont.

The program allows households and businesses to return unused architectural paint to drop-off locations throughout the state. Although household hazardous waste programs in Vermont may continue to accept paint from household and some businesses, many of these programs are not open year-round and may not be as conveniently located as retail stores. In addition, some HHW programs do not accept latex paint, while retailers in the PaintCare program will. Stores that would like to become a drop-off site can fill out the Interest Form available in the Retailers section of www.paintcare.org/VT.
