

Buying or selling a home? We'll make it paintless.

Whether you have paint leftover from selling your home or found a closet full of touch up paint in your new one, PaintCare can help you responsibly dispose of it for free. There are more than 2,000 PaintCare sites in California, Colorado, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Maine, Minnesota, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Washington where you can recycle unwanted paint, stain, and varnish all year long.

Learn how PaintCare can help buyers and sellers:
paintcare.org/New-Home

(855) PAINT09

We'll take your leftover paint!

Buyers: Tired of being stuck with the old paint that sellers leave behind? We know you were hoping for a fresh start.

Sellers: Preparing to sell your property can be a stressful process, especially if you have gallons of unwanted paint.

Whether it's brand new or has been sitting around for years, you can recycle paint, stain, and varnish for free at PaintCare drop-off sites. Find a drop-off location near you using our site locator and review what products we accept for recycling on our website.

Learn how PaintCare can help buyers and sellers:
paintcare.org/New-Home

